I am extremely concerned about the proposed drilling for gas in Burniston. There are many reasons why this should not be allowed to go ahead and my main objections are as follows:-

- 1, we are in a tourist area and only a very short distance from the National Park. Tourists are an essential part of the local economy and the proposed plans would have a detrimental effect.
- 2, The government are persuading us to move to green energy so why extract more gas? The site will produce more CO₂ and methane.
- 3, There is a risk of earth tremors and it should be obvious that there is a danger of more damage to the already crumbling cliffs nearby.
- 4, we live close to the proposed site which would produce noise, dust, light pollution, toxic fumes and smells. Other sites have been closed down for those and many reasons, why should this one be given the go ahead?
- 5, Industrial development is not appropriate in a farming and rural area. The site will be very close to many houses and will almost certainly have an effect on the value of homes and small businesses, all to assist a large company to make even bigger profits out of producing more and more carbon emissions.
- 6, There are many other reasons why this company should be stopped of which I am sure you will be well aware from the enormous opposition to this project by the inhabitants of this area.

Yours faithfully, Alan Grundy.
