To whom it may concern

I hope this email finds you well.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed fracking plans in Scarborough. As a concerned member of the community, I believe that this project poses significant environmental, health, and social risks to the area, which far outweigh any potential benefits.

Fracking has been linked to serious environmental concerns, including groundwater contamination, air pollution, and the destruction of local ecosystems. The potential for harm to both the natural environment and the health of the residents is too great to ignore.

Furthermore, this process is often disruptive to local communities and can lead to long-term, irreversible consequences for the land and its people. We should instead be investing in sustainable and renewable energy solutions that prioritize the health of our planet and future generations.

I urge you to reconsider this proposal and explore alternative, cleaner methods of energy production that align with the values and priorities of the Scarborough community.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter. I look forward to hearing your response.

Kind regards,
